

Photographs by Maria Krajcovic

In nature
we see reflections of our children.

The tree is the strong one.
The ocean, rambunctious and untamed.
The sky, the absolute dreamer.

And to choose the tree over the ocean
would be like choosing one child over the next.

An impossibility as large as the world itself.

The world's leading environmental groups are working together.
To find out how you and your employer can help,
please visit our Web site at www.earthshare.org.

Earth Share

One environment. One simple way to care for it.

